QUOTE

I need the business to run on rails. If I know the deliveries and inventory are going well, I can focus on working with my staff.

Cooking is never the problem. Getting everything out of the way so that I can focus on the experience is what I lose sleep over.

Working hard on the every day operations takes the bulk of my day. If I don't worry about that, I can create in my happy place.

Seeing that all of the operations are in order, from deliveries to staff schedules, should be easier.
